

Stay safe!

Dear Colleagues, dear community members,

I think it's safe to say the world has changed since my last blog. How little did we know about what was going to happen. Who will know what the impact of Corona is going to be? In the meantime, we must stay strong. At Blueriq, while our office is closed, we try to do our work as good as we've always done. You can reach out to us if you need us.

Working from home brings a few challenges. Not only in a work-related way. I'm talking about the ambiance and the daily contact with our colleagues. We've always been more than just colleagues. We're missing out on that. If you have any good ideas to keep the spirit alive, let us know!

There's one last thing I want to say about Corona. If you're in doubt, or have questions about the way Blueriq handles this situation and takes care of our colleagues, check <https://www.blueriq.com/actueel/coronavirus/>. You can find all Corona related information there. We'll update this page as soon as there's news from the government or other organizations.

Release 13

As I'm quite a positive minded person, I'd like to end with something nice. We're planning and refining the final work that we must do to create release 13. We'll make sure we're up to date with platform support, we added some new functionality and for version management we are going to use GIT instead of our own SDF. You can already use this since Blueriq 12.9. If you have any concerns about functionality or platform support for Blueriq 13, we'd like to hear it.

For now, stay safe and healthy. Keep an eye out for your fellow citizens, colleagues, friends and family. Speak to you soon!
